Introduction

Rax Engineering and Industrial Supply was founded in 2007, as a relatively new organization in the engineering services located in San Pedro Laguna.

Mr. Raymond V. Cosico the President and General Manager, started the business thru supplying of specialized parts frequently used in the production/engineering process of our client. Due to his broad experience in the field, Mr. Raymond V. Cosico started to gain the trust of our client, thus providing engineering advice and ideas in modification and improvement on our client's production / engineering process.

Rax Engineering and Industrial Supply started as a new organization. However, we, Rax Engineering, always make our way to strive our best to set forth and achieve new milestone, providing opportunities mutually beniffiting the people and the company.
